Award letter - NAAF product labelling

Product: Granberg – Nitrile rubber disposable gloves

The Norwegian Asthma and Allergy Association hereby confirms that selected products from Granberg have been risk assessed with focus on product characteristics that facilitate increase in quality of life for NAAF's target groups. A specific nitril rubber disposable glove distributed by Granberg is entitled to use the NAAF label and the wording "recommended by NAAF" in its marketing and sales purposes, provided a valid written agreement with NAAF.

NAAF's aim is to follow the current action plan. Product labelling is one of NAAF's many tools to achieve our goals; which include increasing public awareness of more allergy friendly product choices, such as use of disposable nitrile rubber gloves manufactured in a rubber accelerator-free process. The gloves are risk assessed in close collaboration with the factory. In order to achieve this all relevant production steps, formulations, raw materials and documentation has been made available to NAAF. The risk assessment has concluded that the gloves show excellent product properties, hold a very low potential for triggering irritation reactions, sensitization of triggering of existing allergy, which makes these gloves suitable for use by our target groups.

Detailed information regarding NAAF's product recommendation is only available on the website www.naaf.no. The only place that offers official information about recommended products and NAAF product labelling.
